O. , 2003. OCLC Number: (OCoLC)53911485 Subject: Fishery management -- Oregon. Excerpt: . . . 11 Oregon and California each will receive 35 percent of these funds and Washington will disperse the remaining 30 percent. Under the Magnuson-Stevens Act such funds may be used for assessing the economic and social effects of the commercial fishery failure, restoring the fishery and preventing a similar failure in the future, and assisting fishing communities. The Secretary also must determine that funded activities will not expand the size or scope of the commercial fishery failure. Finally, the law requires that the federal share of the cost of any funded activity may not exceed 75 percent of the cost of that activity. Each state has made a similar proposal to use the funds for industry outreach, job retraining, and cooperative industry research. We have summarized these pro-posed activities into a West Coast groundfish spending plan that will be sent to Congress as required under the supplemental appropriations law, and we are currently working with the states on how best they can meet the 25 percent matching requirement. In conclusion, I recognize that serious problems remain, but am cautiously optimistic about the future of the groundfish fishery. We must continue to protect over-fished fish stocks, increase our scientific understanding, and support efforts to re-structure the fishery and fleet that allow the participants and support industries to remain financially solvent during the rebuilding process. We now know more about current climate effects on the groundfish stocks and recognize that harvest levels may remain at low levels for a long time before...
